ORIENTAL SOCIETY

INDICES TO
VOLUMES I-XXI

PUBLISHED BY THE UNIVERSITAS-BOOKSELLERS

INTRODUCTION

The reproduction of the Journal of the Palestine Oriental Society in its entirety is a happy event for all those interested in the studies of the languages, literatures, history, folklore, geography and archaeology of the ancient Near East in general and of the Holy Land in particular.

The names of the presidents of the Palestine Oriental Society beginning with the late Rev. P. M. J. Lagrange, S.J. in 1920 and concluding with J. H. Iliffe, who served from 1941–1948 testify to the high quality of the organization's leadership and thus of its membership. The editors of its Journal, from the late Canon Herbert Danby on till it ceased to appear in 1948, published in it a long series of excellent articles, reflecting the scholarly researches of an elite group of scientific investigators, whose results bear constant rereading.

The publisher deserves warm thanks for undertaking this enterprise and making the Journal of the Palestine Oriental Society once again available to the scholarly world.
